

Meeting the Extended Service Interval Challenge with Donaldson Endurance™

TESTIMONIAL

Running an efficient fleet is top priority for any maintenance manager. Looking for ways to improve truck performance and reduce operating costs seems to be an integral part of running any successful trucking fleet.

Jack Cooper Transport is one of many fleets that have converted to Donaldson Endurance filters that use Ultra-Web™ Nanofiber Technology and reaped financial rewards. These “once a year” filters, as Gary Page, Vice President - Maintenance & Equipment reports, result in longer service intervals as well as provide other advantages like a reduction in silicates in their oil analysis when they started using Donaldson Endurance air filters.

Gary Page,
V.P.-Maintenance
& Equipment

Gary states, “As technology has improved in the synthetic lube field and with Jack Cooper’s needs to reduce down time and expenses we found it necessary to look for a line of filters that would allow us to extend our oil filter change interval. As we increased our oil drain interval, we discovered that our current conventional oil filter would not meet our needs. With this information in hand, we approached Donaldson with our needs. They were very excited about the challenge.”

Donaldson®

“Donaldson introduced us to their Synteq high efficiency line of oil filters. This filter evolved into the Donaldson Endurance line of filters. After some very intense testing, I am happy to say Donaldson has met the challenge, and solved our oil filter interval problem. Donaldson has not only met our needs but exceeded our expectations. They were very professional and a pleasure to work with. Because of the performance of their oil filter, we elected to change our entire fleet over to Donaldson's line of filters including new equipment. When new tractors are spec'ed they are spec'ed with Donaldson filters. Nothing leaves the manufacturer without Donaldson filters.”

Jack Cooper Transport (Kansas City, Missouri) has maintained a solid reputation in the auto transport industry for over 70 years. With its acquisition of Pacific Motor Transport in 1988, Jack Cooper Transport (JCT/PMT) is a major carrier of new and preowned vehicles across the West and Midwest.

Donaldson® Endurance®

Donaldson Endurance is a program that offers a systematic approach to increase engine protection, extend service intervals, and reduce operating costs to fleets. Donaldson Endurance air and lube filters are ideal for extended maintenance intervals and prolong engine and equipment life.
